

Grandparents Custody Rights Denied: Why Grandparents Can't Get Custody of Their Grandchildren

*By Shirley M. Berens, MHR, MNM, Paralegal/Research Analyst
PhD candidate Capella University*

Shirley Berens' new book, "Grandparents Custody Rights Denied" will be released early 2012. As the premier of this book, much attention will be focused on the research that went into bringing to light the reason for the ever increasing trend that faces grandparents in America today.

Grandparents Resource Center's new book, "Grandparents Custody Rights Denied" was written to help grandparents whose rights to custody visitation or adoption of their grandchildren placed in foster care, are denied. "This manual walks you through the process of dealing with the Department of Social Services and the legal way to get children out of foster care."

Furthermore, this book discusses the roadblocks grandparents face when they attempt to get custody of their grandchildren once the parents of these children have created a dilemma of being charged with child abuse or other infractions.

"Grandparents Custody Rights Denied" is a must read book for grandparents seeking information so that they may further educate themselves about Human Services and the judicial system.

Save Your Grandchildren

* Note: The author is available for interviews and appearances. Also, for your convenience a copy of this press release is available. Please contact Sharron Calvin for details.

Disclaimer: This book is the sole property of the author and publisher. The subject matter relationship is presented here for illustrative purposes only.

Shirley M. Berens, MHR, MNM, Paralegal, Research Analyst. She is a PhD candidate at Capella University specializing in Grandparent Grandchild Relationships. For the past twenty-one years, her focus has been on grandparents trying to get custody of their grandchildren placed into foster care. She lobbied for the first grandparent law in Colorado in 1991 and was able to get custody of her own grandchildren who are now in their twenties with children of their own. Shirley currently resides in Southwestern Colorado.

Grandparents Custody Rights
Denied:
"Why Grandparents Can't Get Custody of Their Grandchildren"

Author
*Shirley M. Berens, MHR, MNM,
Paralegal/Research Analyst
PhD candidate Capella University*

Category: Family and Relationships
$39.95, e-book, 6 x 9
509 pages

Publicity Contact:
Sharron Calvin
Marketing Director
grc4usaABC@aol.com
Grandparents Resource Center Publications
1-303-980-5707
www.grc4usa.org